

2012 Boston Warriors AAU Boys Springs Tryouts

The Boston Warriors AAU Boys Basketball organization would like to announce the 2012 spring tryouts for both the Boston Warriors and Boston Warriors North Division AAU Boys teams. The Boston Warrior AAU Boys Basketball Program is one of the strongest programs in New England from 3rd grade through high school seniors. Last year we had 13 teams qualify for the AAU National Championships.

We offer players of all talent level the possible opportunity to play competitive spring basketball. In the spring, all teams will play at least 5-6 tournaments, the roster size is manageable and the cost is to play affordable. Most of all, we will provide very good coaching including a lot of skill work with real practices. This year we may have multiple teams from grade 3 up to grade 12.

For players in the Boston and metrowest area (south & west of Boston) practices will be in the Waltham/Lexington/Cambridge area. The Boston Warriors North division will be made up primarily of players on the north shore. The practices for these teams will generally be in the Woburn, Wakefield, and Peabody & Malden area. This year, for organizational purposes, the tryouts for the Boston Warriors and Boston Warriors North will be at Waltham High School.

ALL of the tryouts will be at Waltham High School. Below are the times:
